Mercedes Fashion Week @ SYDNEY

THE sartorial set and celebrities hit Row A and the runways this week in Sydney to rub shoulders with their fashionable friends.

Filming her reality show, Lara Bingle was out every day alongside fashionistas Jodi Gordon and Ruby Rose. Meanwhile Melbourne's Montana Cox and Kate Peck were fierce on the catwalk for our top Aussie designers.

Nick's Texan nuptials

I BUMPED into my favourite footballer, Nick Riewoldt, at Crown's new restaurant Merrywell.

He was enjoying himself, though he was missing his fiancée, Catherine, who is overseas.

Nick told me plans were going well for the couple's coming nuptials, though securing the glamorous Texan's hand was no easy feat. "I had to get down on bended knee in front of 16 members of her family before they'd give me permission to ask her to marry me," he says.

Thankfully Nick likes a challenge both on and off the field.

Fresh French fare warming Armadale

MOISE Leouzon and Adam Diamond's decision to quit their corporate jobs and open a cafe appears to have been a masterstroke.

La Petit Prince cafe has brought a touch of France to Armadale without a hint of pomp or pretence. The boys' smiling faces will be a welcome sight for people wanting to escape the cold during the winter months.

Shades of autumn at RCH fundraiser

IT WAS so lovely of Warren and Amanda Thompson to open their Toorak home for my Autumn Garden Party fundraiser for the Royal Children's Hospital.

We all sat by the pool on beautiful white tables and chairs and were entertained by singer Alana Scott and DJ Georgia Sinclair. Elise May was such an elegant MC.

Fortunately the rain held off until it was time to pack up. Chantel Thornton and Srecko Lorbek, and Robyn and Tom Warwick were among the generous guests.
